

OBSERVATION

SEX IN THE LAND OF THE LILLIPUTIANS

While the Government of Singapore continues to promote its love boats (third-year, Singapore university students and Singapore university graduates, only, if you please), it appears that the powers-that-be in Singapore do not condone premarital/extramarital fornication, or, for that matter, young Singaporean Chinese, indulging in sexual activities of any kind.

(Naughty, naughty!)

Which may be considered a bit of a conflict of interests with regard to the aims and objects of promoting the love boats of Singapore: To get the university students and university graduates to marry, copulate (not necessarily in that order, of course), and beget offspring as quickly as possible.

Senior Minister of the Singapore Government (unofficial and with unlimited portfolio), Mr Lee Kuan Yew, maintains that if only Singapore university graduates copulate with Singapore university graduates (preferably ethnic Chinese, understood), then the Chinese offspring will be genetically superior to the Chinese offspring of non-university graduates.

And, certainly, the offspring will be superior, intellectually, to those children, born of parents, being part Malaysian, part ethnic Indians, and/or part Chinese.

This concept is not to be confused, of course, with ethnic cleansing or any other historical consideration or precedent, leading to genocide, such as Hitler's World War II many edicts, based on claims that German Aryan males, procreating with German Aryan females, both of whom are not deformed -- blond hair and blue eyes preferred, if you please -- would lead to a pure Aryan stock in Germany; and, rid the country of the Jewish and gipsy vermin -- complete with hooked noses, olive-coloured skins and horrible black hair.

Hitler, also, had as many deformed children, born in Germany, killed as early as possible so as not to pollute the German gene pool.

Hitler was way behind the times, actually, because, if he had been a student of history, he would have known that, prior to the American Revolution (1775 - 1783), the colonists of the Carolinas -- North Carolina and South Carolina, now -- before 1729, used to breed black slaves for certain genetic attributes: Strength; beauty; size; intelligence; etc.

These colonists were farmers and knew about stud farms and gene pools (although not by those names), and experimented with black slaves in order to improve their bloodstock, which was purchased at open auction -- brought into the Americas, most likely, by British slavers, into various ports, such as Charleston.

Getting back to the Land of Lee Kuan Yew, it was reported, not too long ago, that a survey of 2,369 Singaporean youths, aged between 12 years and 21 years, resulted in the surprising conclusion that only about 3.40 percent of those surveyed had had a sexual experiences.

(TARGET assumes that the term, sexual experiences, by the Singapore Government's definition, excludes activities, such as homosexuality, cunnilingus, and/or fellatio)

This was in spite of the fact that it was determined that 40 percent of those surveyed were, at the time of the survey, dating.

The Singapore Planned Parenthood Association made the erudite statement that it proved that Singaporean youths, aged between 12 years and 21 years, were better behaved than previously thought.

(One wonders what the Association previously thought: That Singapore's youth, males as well as females, actually, made love with their opposite numbers?)

Statistically, in fact, the results of the survey prove, without question, that Singapore's youths, between the ages of 12 years and 21 years, are the best behaved – in terms of The Singapore Government's Planned Parenthood Association -- in the world, in the matter of not indulging in bedroom sports.

Now, in the British Isles, sexual intercourse used to be known, in some parlances, as, 'humping'. Today, it is more commonly referred to as 'shagging'.

In many countries, located in the Antipodes, especially in Australia and New Zealand, it is referred to 'putting one's Willie into a Wendy' – when they do it, at all, of course because there is some controversy as to whether or not the Australians actually engage in sexual intercourse.

In the US, sexual intercourse is, often, called, simply, 'screwing'.

So, it appears that the youth of Singapore does not, readily, indulge in old-fashioned humping, modern-day shagging, putting Willies into Wendys, or even screwing.

One may conjecture as to what it takes to get Singapore's youth, aged between 12 years and 21 years, to hump, shag, screw, or whatever turns them on.

Yet, Singapore Government love boats regularly cruise the area, bringing male and female university undergraduates and graduates together in the Singapore Government's avowed and advertised hope that they will 'get it off' and procreate in the same way as normal mammals.

If all this sounds a little bit hypocritical of the Singapore Governmental system, it could be said that one does not fully understand the Government of Prime Minister Goh Chok Tong/Lee Kuan Yew.

This is quite understandable since many people in the Western World have trouble in understanding the Singapore Government's thinking, where the punishment for some misdemeanors is caning, where a special Government squad will go on the prowl on Saturday nights, especially, in order to capture and forcibly cut a youth's hair if it deemed to be too long, where a person may be fined for caught refusing, or forgetting, to flush a public toilet, where to drop something on the pavement of a street and be caught so doing will result in one being fined, heavily, and where, if a non-Singaporean is discovered, through compulsory medical testing, to be a carrier of the HIV virus, he is expelled, forthwith, regardless of the length of time that he has lived in the Island State of Mr Lee Kuan Yew.

British boys and girls of the same age, as those recently surveyed in Singapore, were found to be hot lovers, indulging in the bedroom sport of shagging, on average, 133 times a year.

In Singapore Government terms, this would indicate that Britain's youth was poorly behaved, as was, no doubt, previously thought to be the case.

One supposes that British youth is a bit worse than the youth of the US, where that country's youth screw about 128 times a year, according to statistics.

Married Singaporeans, it seems, only indulge in sexual intercourse about once every week, according to Singapore Government statistics.

This must surprise anthropologists, sexologists and sociologists since one would suppose that, when the sap is rising, there has to be a release, actively sought – unless one believes in working the old machine by hand, of course.

That the fertility rate in Singapore is among the lowest in the world, today, is undisputed; questions may soon be raised as the reason for this social anomaly.

There have been suggestions that the Singaporean's unfortunate voice inflexion turns off other races from dating Singapore nationals, notwithstanding the arrogance with which many, if not most, Singaporeans are imbued, Government ministers inclusive.
