

THE THREE WIVES OF STANLEY HO HUNG SUN:
SHE WHO SLEEPS WITH THIS MAN WAKES UP WITH MILLION$

Dr Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790) is best known as being one of the 5 drafters of The Declaration of Independence from Great Britain in 1775.

This historic document was the cornerstone of The War of Independence (1775-1783) which culminated in the creation of The United States of America.

However, Dr Benjamin Franklin, also, founded the first public library in the United States, known as the Philadelphia Library, chartered in 1742.

About ten years prior to the founding of the first public library in the US, Dr Benjamin Franklin published his first Poor Richard's Almanack, under the pen name of Richard Saunders esquire.

It was the homespun philosophy, contained in this slim and very modest volume, which endeared him to the common folk of his era and to people, around the world, today.

One of his pet adages was that the person, who sleeps with dogs, wakes up with fleas.

In the Hongkong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) of the People's Republic of China (PRC), today, it could well be said that the lady who sleeps with Dr Stanley Ho Hung Sun (), Chairman of Shun Tak Holdings Ltd () (Code: 242, Main Board, The Stock Exchange of Hongkong Ltd) and the principal of Sociedade de Turismo e Diversoes de Macau S.A., which owns, among other things, Hotel Lisboa and its casino in the Macau Special Administrative Region of the PRC, awakens to tens of millions of dollars in the bank.

Dr Stanley Ho Hung Sun, who is 86 years old, today, had 4 wives of various vintages, all of whom, in their own right, are extremely wealthy ladies.

His first wife, a Portuguese lady, died, but it is known that her children carry on her legacy.

In her era, which spanned about 70 years, records were not kept to the extent that they are today so that it is nearly impossible to estimate what was her wealth, but it must have been vast, by her standards, because Dr Stanley Ho Hung Sun has never been known to be stingy to his lovers.

The wives of Dr Stanley Ho Hung Sun were not, always, multi-millionairesses (in any currency of the world), but being skin-close to the Great Man of Macau resulted in his innate ability (inter alia, to earn tens of billions of dollars) to rub off onto his favoured ladies, those with contracts of marriage and those without such official scraps of paper.

Dr Stanley Ho Hung Sun, probably, is not certain as to how much wealth he has, actually, amassed over his 86 years because he is, without question, one of the richest men in the HKSAR and Macau and must rank, internationally, if truth be known.

TARGET (), can, however, certainly inform Subscribers as to a good approximation as to the wealth of his 3 remaining wives.

Turning to the database of TOLFIN () (The Computerised Online Financial Intelligence Service and Web-Based, Credit-Checking Provider), this medium has determined that the 3 wives of Dr Stanley Ho Hung

Sun, in aggregate, are worth at least $HK1.37 billion.

This TARGET calculation, however, is based on the market cost of the property assets, purchased by these 3, very wealthy ladies, either directly or through companies in which they hold directorships of record.

Some of these property assets were purchased as far back as the 1980s so that, clearly, their values are much greater than the book cost.

As such, TARGET puts Subscribers on notice that the figure of about $HK1.37 billion is very conservative because it does not take into consideration the present market value of the property assets.

Also, TARGET has not added to its calculations, the net realised profits from property transactions over the years and/or investments in publicly listed companies and properties in other countries, such as Canada, Australia and Great Britain.
