

PLAYING AT FAVOURITES TO MOVE THE MOUNTAIN

Everybody and his cat are telling Chief Executive Tung Chee Hwa how to administer the Hongkong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) of the People's Republic of China (PRC).

Everybody, that is, except the 'man', himself: Chief Executive Tung Chee Hwa.

About the only person, who does not appear to have constructive ideas with regard to administering the HKSAR, is the 'man', himself, Chief Executive Tung Chee Hwa.

From Cyberports to Chinese-medicine ports, from how-do-you-do? to come polish my shoe, from gloom and doom, to come kiss the moon, everybody is advising the 'man' as to the best way to go, in respect of this and that.

Everybody has ideas; and, everybody is advising the Tung Chee Hwa Administration.

And, everybody seems to think that he (or she) is running the HKSAR.

Everybody, that is, except the 'man'.

The latest piece of 'advise' is nothing but absolute nonsense, in the best traditions of the most erudite of HKSAR businessman.

It is, also, nonsense in the best traditions of the entire bunch of would-be chief executive advisers (of the doozie class, that is).
